

The Offer Rebuild

winners are built.

30 minutes. fill every blank. same product, new machine.

01

1 The core promise

not what the product is. what the customer gets.

specific outcome: _____ timeframe: _____

certainty statement (the guarantee, said out loud):

weak: "premium collagen powder" strong: "visibly younger skin in 90 days or 100% back"

2 The value stack

target: perceived value 5-10x your price. the digital pieces cost you nothing after creation.

	perceived value
core product	_____
bonus product (complementary)	_____
digital guide / protocol	_____
video training	_____
community access	_____
free consultation / assessment	_____
total perceived value:	_____
your price:	_____ ratio: _____ x

3 The risk reversal

circle one. a stronger guarantee adds 2-5% refunds and 30-80% conversions. the net is always positive.

- | | |
|---|---------------------------|
| ☐ 30-day money-back | +15-25% conversion |
| ☐ 90-day money-back | +30-50% |
| ☐ outcome-based ("X result or 100% back") | +50-80% |
| ☐ better-than-money-back | +80-120% |

4 The pricing architecture

single unit at full price = money left on the table, always. stack what fits.

bundle (3-pack)	+40-70% AOV	$ _____
tiers (good / better / best)	+25-50% AOV	$ / $ / $ _____
protocol (bundle + bonuses)	+60-120% AOV	$ _____
subscribe & save (default it)	+200-400% LTV	$ /mo _____ projected AOV: $ _____		projected 90-day customer value: $ _____

5 The market check

an engineered offer only works where desire already screams. score 1-10 each.

desire intensity (1-3 star reviews say "i've tried everything") _____ willingness to pay _____

recurring need _____ competition gap (high sales, weak offers) _____ total: _____ 30+ = engineer the offer. under 25 = keep looking.

The 30-minute rule

if every blank on these two pages is filled, you have more offer architecture than most brands that hit a million. the product was never the problem.

stuck on which blank is bleeding? that's what the free scaling audit is.
